Description of Task

For this task, in groups, you will be required to create a short film (less than three minutes) which uses transformation as its central and guiding principle. You can choose one of the following as the central focus of their film:

- Transformation of an object
- Transformation of light
- Transformation of sound
- Transformation of materials
- Transformation of the body

You will have 5 weeks of class time to conceive, develop and create your film, after which, you will compose a 300-word reflection in response to the following questions:

1. How was transformation used in your film, and what effect did the transformation have?
2. What role did you play in the creation of your film, and how can this be seen in the final product?
