Virtual First Aid Learning

The Year 11 PDHPE students participated in a first of its kind in NSW by interacting with 2 schools across NSW, Wellington and Brewarrina, whose student also participated in the course online. This was an initiative of the Rural Learning Exchange and delivered by Royal Life Saving from Coffs Harbour.

Police Visit

Year 7-11 yesterday could ask our local policeman Senior Constable Pasfield about ANYTHING, but especially about using facebook, instagram and other apps in the right way. Thanks for coming to our school and working with us to make sure we use our phones and social media properly.

The right shoes?

Please check in and ask your kids if they need leather upper shoes (or equivalent) in order to do Science, Food, Metal or Timber pracs. From now on, Warialda High will be limiting participation for those without correct health and safety footwear. Many students leave old farm boots at school for pracs and free lockers are available for this purpose. Similarly, students also need appropriate footwear for PE and sport. If you require student assistance funds please contact us.

Caught in the Act

Last week, students from all years had the opportunity to embrace their inner Shakespearean actors and scholars, due to the dynamic and engaging activities brought to them by the Bell Shakespeare Artist in Residence Program. Designed to positively impact students from regional communities, this intensive program uses active learning strategies allowing students to understand the relevance of Shakespeare today. This program has added to students' experience of Shakespeare's work studied in English classes from years 7-12. Artists, Kate and Ryan put students through their paces, learning fun acting techniques and exploring strategies for understanding Shakespearean English and discovering new meaning in his plays.
